What you're getting, and how to read it

WHAT THIS IS

A look at what happens when someone searches for you online. I checked your website, your profiles on Google, Yelp, Zillow and others, and what Google and AI tools like ChatGPT say when asked. It is information first. I did not change anything on any of your accounts, and there is no price in it.

You have two things

What	What it is	Time
1. The presentation (a link, opens on a phone or laptop)	A picture map. Every place you can be found online is a small colored block. Click one to see what it says today and what would fix it. Use the Next button to walk through it in order.	About 5 minutes
2. The report (a PDF, 18 pages)	The full detail: what I checked, what I found, and a simple plan. Keep it, or share it with your broker.	15 to 20 minutes, or the short path below

What the colors mean in the presentation

Green	Amber	Rust	Grey
Working well	Needs a fix	Out of date	Not claimed, or not found

If you only have five minutes

1. Open the presentation and click Next through the first six steps. 2. In the report, read page 2 (where you stand) and pages 11 and 12 (your profiles, one line each). 3. Read pages 17 and 18 (what happens next). Skip pages 5 to 7 (technical detail).

What this is not

- Not a ranking of agents, and not a promise of more clients or a certain place in any search.
- Not a judgment of how your business is doing. I have not seen your leads, your website traffic, or how your clients actually reach you.
- Not a request to buy anything. I want to hear what matters to you first.

What is strong, and what the report points out

- Review quality: 5.0 stars on Google from 13 reviews, with every one answered, and 5.0 on Yelp.
- In our tests, a search for your name put you in the top four on Google.
- An Instagram account that looks like yours (@naparamirez) is active. Your website does not link to it yet.

To look at:

- 13 Google reviews is few next to nearby agents (28 to 83), so more honest reviews is an easy win.
- Several profiles still show an old brokerage, and a few do not match each other.
- Your website is hard for search engines and AI tools to read, so they rarely use it to find you.

IN PLAIN WORDS

Words you'll see, and what comes next

Word	What it means
AI tool	ChatGPT, Google's AI Mode, Gemini, Perplexity and similar. People type or say “who's a good realtor in Napa?” and get a short answer with one or two names.
“Machines can't read your site”	Your website builds its words on screen after it loads. A program that visits it often sees only “Loading NapaListing.com”. Think of a shop with a sign in the window and the lights off inside.
Crawler or bot	The program that visits websites and reads them for search engines and AI tools.
Profile	Your page on a site like Google, Yelp, Zillow, LinkedIn, or Facebook.
Named	An AI tool mentioned you by name in its answer.
Pass / Fix	On the website checks: a check you already pass, or one that needs a change.
Out of date	A place that still shows an old brokerage name.
Personalized	Google and Gemini remember what we searched, so their answers may differ from what you would see. Every test was one run.

What happens next, in this order

1. A two-week cleanup, so every profile says the same true things. 2. Make the website readable (this involves your website company and your broker). 3. Work on whatever you choose to focus on. 4. Last, and only if you want it: earning recommendations from AI tools. Nothing changes without your OK, and nothing on your brokerage's pages changes without your broker's approval. No promises about rankings.

WHAT I'D LIKE FROM YOU

After you look, three questions: What looked right? What surprised you? If we could help with one thing first, what would it be? Also tell me what is working for you today and what you would like more of. Then I can send a simple proposal for just that.
